She Says the Bosses Across the Big Bridges Will Be Forced to Yield.

in Brooklyn until our terms are agreed to. We have won out in Manhattan. and by Monday we will win out here."
So spoke Esther Sanders with prophetic voice as she sat on a packing box opposite the mattress factory at street and Bushwick avenue, Brooklyn, an eagle-eyed picket watchmight try to enter the doors and try to take the place of the union workers who are on strike. With the three hundred men mattress makers who are on strike are twenty-five girls. These young women are pacing up and down in front of the shops affected.

Mass meetings held at No. 56 Orchard street have been attended by girls, who are more enthusiastic than the men strikers. Yesterday a big mass-meeting was held, and as a result the men say the Manhattan bosses have come to their Apparatus from all over the village rolled up to Quaker Ridge, where Mr. Acres's house was in flames. It was a very handsome house and the firemen are certain they could have saved it if there had been any water. But as there are no hydrants on Quaker Ridge, it was impossible to get a stream on the house. All the firemen could do was to form bucket brigades and get water from wells. Before they got through they had dried up three wells, and while they didn't save the Acres house, they did save a number of other handsome residences on Quaker Ridge, which would undoubtedly have caught fire but for their work. It was almost daylight when the fire-

VIOLATED THEIR PAROLE.

Two Men Now Sent to a Year in New Jersey Prison.

Special to The Evening World ) MOUNT HOLLY N. J., Sept. 23. for violating their parole Harry Tomnson, of Mount Holly, and Edward Huggs, of Burlington were to-day sentenced to one year each in the State prison. They were convicted some time ago but sentence was suspended. Tomlinson came under the head of wife-beaters. Judge Gaskill imposed the State prison sentence immediately upon learning that he had violated his parole. Huggs was a wire thief, but he was given an opportunity to reform. This week in Burlington he gave the police to understand that he was going to shoot his rival for the hand of a young woman and his errest followed the discovery of a revolver in his pocket.
